GEN. SICKLES' MISSION.—The object of Gen. Sickles' mission to Central and South America has been the subject of considerable speculation on this coast. It is thus explained by a correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Panama under date of January 29th:

Major General Sickles comes out on important business connected with the Government. He will remain here, probably, a couple of weeks, and then proceed to Bogota, and afterwards to Lima, and elsewhere on the coast. It is more than probable the General has instructions to investigate the management and profits of the various Legations and Consulates, so as to give the President [illegible] of who ought to be retained and who removed, as there will, no doubt, be many aspirants for some of these offices, particularly for that of Panama, which, now that the healthiness of the place has been pretty well established, and the Consulate well known to be an easy and lucrative one, will have a good many people seeking for it. Should the President not consider himself bound to allow the present representatives on this coast to remain in office on account of their politics, he will, in all likelihood make a pretty "clean sweep" and we may expect to see a new batch coming out about the end of May next. While on this subject, I may state that Valparaiso and Callao have usually been considered the best paying Consulates on this coast, but owing to the great importance attained by Panama within the past ten years, it is now, probably more profitable than either of the others.

A WOMAN POSTMASTER.—Mrs. Bushnel has been appointed Postmistress at Sterling (Ill.), on the following order of the President:

Washburn has presented to me all the papers in this case, and finding Mrs. Bushnel as well recommended as any other, and she being the widow of a soldier who fell in battle for the Union, let her be appointed. A. LINCOLN.

We learn that the sloop Hope, Capt. Travers, was wrecked near Whisky Spit, one day last week. She was loaded with produce, which was saved. This is the same craft whose owner is reported as having seen a man running along the beach on Vashon's Island, since supposed to have been either Thompson or Burgess.—Seattle Gazette.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

No Flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the Stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 30, 1865.

Mr. Harding Speaks for Himself.

In response to the letter from General Alvord, published by us a few days since, an answer appears in the Oregon Statesman over the signature of the ex Senator himself and we have the tangible evidence of his own words instead of matters of hearsay to comment upon. That paper reviews the letter in its editorial columns with an exhaustive notice, that is scarcely calculated to amuse the subject of its criticism, while it does ample justice to the theme.

The principal point attempted to be made by Mr. Harding is that the raising of troops was unauthorized and both that and the bounties given were "for no purpose and without any necessity." He very deliberately charges, upon his own mere suspicion at most, that Governor Gibbs and General Alvord influenced General McDowell to make the call, and that it was made upon their suggestion and solicitation. That is the effect and intent of his words. He also charges General Alvord with going out of his appropriate sphere to interfere with the affairs of a State.

In all these different points he has attempted to make, the gentleman has been singularly infelicitous: he has simply put his own word against official proof, though from having verbally declared that the call by General McDowell was unauthorized, or that he merely had received permission to receive volunteers, he tones down in print to an assertion that he had no instructions to order a draft in Oregon; to which we can simply answer that no one ever stated that he had, though General Alvord entertained the opinion for awhile that a draft would have ensued as a consequence of failure to fill the call. General Alvord names the date of the order from the War Department authorizing the call, a copy of which he had, and this must be conclusive evidence in spite of the word and opinion of the ex-Senator.

That troops in considerable numbers are needed, we have proof in the depredations committed by Indians near Canyon City; the late killing of several men in Oregon on the Owyhee and the stealing of cattle and sheep by the same Indians on Reynolds Creek in Idaho, a few miles from the line, to drive into Oregon. The history of all our reserves shows that a force is needed at each reservation to keep the Indians in order, or to defend them from hostile tribes or mean whites. Then the possibility of a foreign war exists. Should such happen to be the case even Mr. Harding will allow that those troops will be far more effective than raw recruits could be.

No one pretends that Gen. Alvord influenced the Legislature, unless it be Mr. Harding himself; and it is simply a political guess-work or manufactured dodge, to pretend that Gov. Gibbs influenced McDowell. The exaggeration of indebtedness is rather amusing than otherwise, when we learn that the original figures were $500,000. But Mr. Harding came back to the Statesman office, and at one guess, wrote it down to $300,000. Could the shades of all those murdered by Indians in the territory we seek to protect, rise and confront him, the gentleman would no more argue that these troops are useless. As it is the bounties offered have induced a first rate class of young men to enlist, who are capable of effecting much good. The bounties were voted from patriotic impulses and will never be repudiated or pronounced unnecessary by the people, and believing it to have been fairly done and well done, we shall be the last to condemn it.

Mr. Harding may win laurels in the attempt, but we decline to share them, or to believe the people can be demagogued to sustain him. As he professes to belong to our party and to sustain its principles, we must respectfully caution Union men not to be seduced from the faith even by the sophistry of "Wily Ben."

LATEST FROM OWYHEE.—From a private letter of late date, received by a friend, we are allowed to extract the following items:

Well, so much about business. Now I will give you some items about weather here this winter. In the first place, you must acknowledge to yourself that you know nothing about winter, and have never seen a winter, and to see one you must come to Owyhee. The snow on a level is ten feet deep, at least, and in most places twenty feet. When you walk along the main street in Silver City you are about on a level with the roofs of the houses.

About every other day it blows from all quarters a perfect hurricane, and nothing can be seen but snow flying everywhere, and very cold; but notwithstanding the cold and snow, the boys are still driving away upon the different ledges, and many a ledge that was not considered worth much in the Fall is now at the top of the heap. The Eureka has turned out to be as good as first class Morning Star. The Kentucky is bully! The Calaveras shows as rich gold rock as Discovery or Oro Fino—six feet ledge—twenty-two inches down, almost solid gold. Golden Eagle, down in shaft 130 feet, have just struck splendid rock—seven feet of solid ledge. Allison, down in shaft 13 feet below level of Same, over 11 feet of ledge, better rock than ever. Evening Star and French District turn out well. In the Home Ticket, Mingay & Co. have been chambering to the south, and have been and are now taking out richer ore than ever before.

The only mill now running is Mingay's; he has had considerable difficulty in procuring rock this winter, but I think he will be able to get considerable from the Golden Eagle now, which will pay him well for crushing, although the base metals in both it and the Allison renders it difficult to save the metal. The Ladd & Reed is being pushed ahead rapidly, and they are taking out rich rock. The Crane & Driggs Co. missed it when they stopped work upon their mine, as they were taking out good paying rock and are now losing much valuable time. The ledges upon the War Eagle have not been worked any this winter, as it was not convenient to do so, and no one could camp out this winter.

We have tried hard to enjoy ourselves up here this winter, and have had dances every week and have a dancing school running now. A good many people are now coming in here from Humboldt, which is about played out. My advice to persons down below is not to come up before the 1st of May, and I think they will find plenty of snow then.

The Indians have been quite troublesome lately and John McGuinnins, of the Humboldt Express, and another man have been killed. They made a raid on Reynolds creek last week and stole a number of horses and sheep. The volunteers have been sent. Nothing more of interest that I am aware of.

THE REVIEW ON FINANCE.—We have never said that the State was not incurring debt, or that the Union party was not responsible for it. The bounties offered have already amounted, including back pay and one hundred and fifty dollars to each new volunteer, to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and should two full regiments be enlisted, of which there seems little chance at present, the State bonds to be issued will amount to three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. What we do and did say is that the ordinary expenses of the State are as reasonable as they ever were, and that our party have been as economical as their predecessors were. Will the Review be kind enough in the future to make no mistakes "for we leave it to shoulder the lie it says is "out between us."

By Overland Telegraph.

(Despatches to the Oregonian.)

DATES TO MARCH 23.

New York Market Reports.

NEW YORK, March 22.—There was more steadiness early in the day in commercial circles, but towards the close there was a renewal of the decline of the past week. Everything is again on the down track. In the general produce and merchandise market, no business is doing. Dullness still prevails. Telegraphic reports of the state of the markets all over the country show a heavy decline in the principal articles of produce, and manufactures keeping pace with the depreciation of gold. The falling off in sugars, molasses and every description of groceries is very marked. All customs sympathise perceptibly in the down-ward turn. In the dry goods market there has been a rapid decline. After the dry goods auction to-day, buyers manifested anxiety. The market [illegible] irregular and unsteady. Prices fluctuate with every rumor. Many lots were passed over entire. The sale included a lot of flannels, which brought only moderate prices. There was a sale of French goods which passed off lamely. A large sale of ribbons took place at satisfactory prices. The attendance was large and the bidding spirited.

Movements Against Mobile.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—Gen. Canby is now near Mobile. An attack will certainly be made within five days. Gen. Granger it is supposed will command the forces.

Kirby Smith is still at Shreveport; Buckner is at Natchitoches. Gen. Thomas is at Alexandria with a force awaiting an attack from our troops. Generals Canby, Granger and Bailey Smith and Admiral Thatcher, went within four miles of Mobile in the steamer Iowa last week and drew a heavy fire from many batteries.

CAIRO, March 22.—Forrest is reported at West Point, Mississippi, with 3,000 men, Jackson and McCulloch are at Okalona with 1,000 men, Chalmers is at Libby Station with 1,000 men. It is supposed that these figures are considerably above the mark. The estimate of respective commanders is probably correct. All these rebel forces are in bad condition. They have neither artillery nor infantry. Forrest has abundant supplies in the rich prairie country along the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and can defend himself against any force likely to be sent across the desolate country between his present location and Memphis.

State of the War in North Carolina.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Herald's Kinston, North Carolina, correspondent says: The ram Neuse destroyed by the rebels had a crew exclusive of officers of 90 men, who surrendered. On the ram were 21 hermetically sealed cans of powder which contained 20 pounds, and two 88 pounder rifled guns. The rebels before leaving Kinston, distributed torpedoes all around the place some of which have done execution on our troops.

The Herald's Second Corps correspondent under date of the 20th says: It is reported that there is an army of rebel deserters in western North Carolina under their own commander. They are all armed and organized for protection against conscripting officers, and to inflict such injury on the rebel cause as will best contribute to the speedy termination of the war, and enable them to return home.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The steamer [illegible] from Beaufort, N. C., March 20th, has arrived.

News of the capture of Goldsboro had been received in that city. Soon afterwards dispatches were received from Sherman, who it was reported, had called for reinforcements for his army during their further march northward.

Immense numbers of troops were promptly sent from Beaufort by rail and other roads to Goldsboro preparatory to meeting the main army at Johnston. It was believed a battle was imminent, hence Sherman's army was swelled to an overwhelming force, the extent of which led to the general retreat or surrender of the enemy. Reinforcements and supplies have also been sent from Newbern to join Sherman's army.

Refugees at Beaufort and Morehead city declare the rebel troops are demoralized. Their supplies are beginning to give out.

It is reported that Lee's army has gone to reinforce Johnston, and that his main force was about five miles North of Raleigh.

Report of General Thomas.

Maj. General Thomas, in the official report of his autumn and summer campaign, says: To Col. Palmer and his command is accorded the credit of driving Hood's army—the last blow of the campaign, at Bristol, 200 miles from where he first struck the enemy on the 15th December, near Nashville. He says: To all my commands Maj. Gens. Schofield, Stanley, Rousseau, Steedman, Wilson, and Brigadier General Wood, their officers and men, I give my thanks and gratitude for their generous self-sacrifice and manly endurance, under trying circumstances and in all instances. Too much praise cannot be accorded to any army which, partly made up from fragments of separate commands, can successfully contend against a force numerically greater than itself, and of more thoroughly solid organization, inflicting on it a more crushing defeat, almost annihilating it.

Southern Rumors.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 20th instant, quotes from the Raleigh Progress: A rumor that one of Sherman's columns was moving to cut the railroad between Waynesboro, opposite Goldsboro, and Raleigh.

The Richmond Sentinel says $20,000 in Confederate money, several watches and other trinkets, were found on the body of one of Sheridan's officers, killed near Ashland.

The Raleigh Confederate of March 16th, says: The best impression to-day is that Sherman is trying to find Terry and Schofield. Raleigh does not seem to be in his path now.

The Raleigh Press of the same date contains the following: The advance of Sherman will be disputed. We violate no secrecy by saying that he will be confronted by a formidable force, commanded by able and experienced officers. The same paper says Wade Hampton and Hardee, with only their guards, charged on and defeated 400 of Kilpatrick's men.

The Richmond Dispatch says: There has been a great flood in the James river, flooding the lower part of the city, and stopping all repairs to the canal.

More about Sherman.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Herald's special dispatch says: An officer from Fayetteville reports that the column which the Raleigh papers mentioned as moving toward Hillsboro is Sherman's left wing moving toward the North Carolina railroad, to destroy the bridge over the Neuse between Raleigh and Goldsboro. Thousands of refugees are on their way to Wilmington. The harvest of all the landings, between Fayetteville and Wilmington, are filled with rosin, turpentine, cotton, etc. The value of the property captured amounts to millions.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Times' special dispatch says: The steamer from Beaufort the 20th, and Fortress Monroe the 21st, has arrived, bringing the intelligence that Sherman's right wing occupied Goldsboro on the 19th. The information came from Schofield's advance which was moving on Goldsboro from Kinston and is well authenticated. Sherman left Fayetteville on the 11th. His left wing moved in the direction of Mitchell's Station, where the railroad crossed the Neuse by a long and extensive bridge. This point is about twenty-five miles from Goldsboro. Schofield having no enemy in his front would at once form a junction with Sherman.

The Herald's Newbern correspondent writing on the 19th, says: Navigation up the Neuse has been suspended. Five vessels cleared yesterday for Kinston. Supplies for the army are being gathered by this new channel. It is a great assistance to the limited transportation by railroad.

The Fighting on the Way.

The Tribune's Wilmington letter describes the operations of Kilpatrick's cavalry during the recent campaign. The principal encounters with Wheeler were on the 8th and 9th of February. During the march through South Carolina there was much devastation, but on entering North Carolina a different policy was pursued. In Wade Hampton's attack our camp was surprised in the morning, and the fighting was of the most desperate character, and our camp was taken and retaken six times. At last we drove off the enemy. They made several charges on our artillery, but were unable to take it. The rebels left 72 dead and over 100 wounded on the field. Our total loss was 215. Among the rebels killed were General Hume and Col. Aiken, commanding a brigade. Two rebel Colonels were wounded, and among them the notorious Col. Hanes, who commanded a [illegible] brigade; also [illegible] Colonels and Majors. The surgeon of the Jeff. Davis Legion said he had every ambulance and wagon filled with commissioned officers.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Commercial's special says: Richmond papers just received contain nothing confirmatory of the check to Sherman. There is a scarcely concealed hopefulness in the tone of the rebel press that augurs well for Sherman. So far, the best informed military authorities here regard Sherman's position as eminently hopeful. He is approaching a point where the rebels must fight if they expect to hold Richmond, or to prevent an easy consummation of Grant's plans.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Commercial's special says: The War Department is reported to have received dispatches from Fortress Monroe that Sherman had arrived before the defences at Raleigh on Saturday, and, having planted his guns in position, sent a summons to demand its surrender. The result is not given.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 2[illegible].—The steamer [illegible] [illegible] Kinston, N. C. [illegible] Sherman [illegible] the rebels [illegible] Johnston [illegible] of giving battle and [illegible] distance before [illegible].

The Rebel Congress Issues an Address.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The [illegible] [illegible] Davis [illegible] [illegible] independence [illegible] [illegible] of the resources of the South and calls on the people to drive out the [illegible] skulkers. It congratulates the country on the appointment of Lee as General in Chief and apologizes for the heavy burden of taxation they have been obliged to impose. They declare the people of the United States have become tired of the war, and say that they can at any time have peace by abandoning the wicked attempt at subjugation. They recite [illegible] the old government [illegible] people to emulate the example of the Russians when Napoleon invaded their territory [illegible] with assuring appeal, saying [illegible] their reach, that the battle [illegible] and that the [illegible] over and beckon them on.

Maximilian and Mexico.

The Paris papers announce Maximilian's protest against being [illegible] Austrian throne. He expects to reach Mexico and reform [illegible].

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Herald's [illegible] [illegible] a complete rupture between Maximilian and the Papal Church. Among them is a letter from the Pope to Maximilian, in which the former utters warnings and gives advice [illegible] signed by the latter. The Archbishops and Bishops of Mexico also protest against the [illegible] new Emperor and appeal to [illegible] measures against the church [illegible] [illegible].

Richmond Affairs.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Tribune's [illegible] correspondent says: Refugees from Richmond report that great consternal [illegible] there. They say the city has [illegible] evacuated in the way of sending [illegible] material, machinery, etc., to Lynchburg and Danville. Sheridan, they also say, has [illegible] this, in a great measure, [illegible] the Richmond and Lynchburg Canal. The [illegible] communication [illegible] the Danville Railroad [illegible] most completely worn out, and there is no material to repair it. These men think that Davis, Lee and other leaders have lost all hope, and already have their eyes on Mexico as an asylum.

The Herald's special says: It is known by the Administration that Stephens, Hunter and Lee are hopeless of the rebellion, and have so informed Davis. Lee looks upon the arming of slaves as a failure, for the reason that Congress delayed the measure too long, and sadly the failure to make the negroes free renders that plan [illegible].

Lincoln does not believe there will be any more severe fighting, but thinks perhaps they will surrender.

Miscellaneous News.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Times' Paris correspondent says the excitement about the relations between France and the United States is increasing.

A private letter from Nassau says thirty six blockade runners lay in the harbor with nothing to do. Fifty warehouses are full of goods for which there is no sale. Cargoes received from England three months ago are arriving and being sent back in the same vessels.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Senators Doolittle, Foster and Nesmith, and Representatives Windham, Hubbard, Higby and Ross comprise the committee appointed under a joint resolution of Congress directing inquiry into the condition of the Indian tribes and their treatment by civilians and the military.

Letter from Mr. Harding.

EDITOR STATESMAN—Sir: My attention has been called to a letter from Brig. Gen. Alvord, dated March 20th, 1865, published in the OREGONIAN of the 22d inst., in which he says, in speaking of the calls of Maj. Gen. McDowell upon Gov. Gibbs for troops:

"It is probably my duty to say that I have in my office copies of the authority of the War Department under which the calls were made."

I have not heard the statement that General McDowell had no authority to make such calls. But I have made the statement that General McDowell had no authority to order a draft in Oregon. And I was so informed by the Secretary of War.

From the statement of Gen. Alvord, it appears that Gen. McDowell only had permission to call for a regiment of cavalry and one of infantry—not that he was instructed or directed to do so. This permission was undoubtedly obtained and the call made by Gen. McDowell on representations of Gen. Alvord or Gov. Gibbs that a large force was much needed in this State or District.

In the same letter I find the following:

"Some papers sometime since asserted that ex-Senator Harding had made a discovery that the troops were not needed, and I learn from various sources that he proclaimes that it was a very grave offense in me to have encouraged the passage by the recent Legislature of the acts giving bounties to the troops, and a still graver offense in the Legislature actually to pass them."

This is the first admission of a U. S. military officer that he has been interfering with the political affairs of a loyal and peaceful State, of which he is not a citizen, that I have known of, and should be sufficient, as I think, to cause his removal from the District at least.

That a full regiment of troops are not needed in Oregon must be plain to every man, and I have not yet "made a discovery" of the way and the place where they can be made of any use in the District, unless it be to give to Gen. Alvord a Brigadier's command, with some powers and perhaps perquisites that he has not heretofore had. He says: "the frontiers have been extended." He should have said the frontier is now far removed, and nearly all the Indians of Oregon are upon reservations, living peaceably and completely under the control of the Government agents. Very few troops are employed or needed to guard them. But Fort Lapwai and Boise are mentioned, as though troops raised here are necessary to garrison them. They are both in the Territory of Idaho which probably has more able-bodied men than this State, a part of whom have gone there to escape from the draft, and all of them for gold. And why did the General "encourage" the Legislature of Oregon to violate our Constitution and attempt to run in debt a [illegible] and send off one thousand or more of our able bodied men for their protection against a few starving, naked, digger Indians? Could they not protect themselves? Did they ask our aid?

The two regiments called for will cost the General Government near two millions of dollars per year, but what service are they to render for this great expenditure? The General tells us, in his "Expose," dated 1 March 18th, that they "will assist in developing your mineral wealth." What nonsense! Had there been any need for [illegible] is it the business of the Government [illegible] to be employed guarding [illegible] and their [illegible] strength and the Government [illegible] visionary schemes. [illegible] "they have been [illegible] in our [illegible] effort again to [illegible] equipped to his patriotic wants [illegible] money, and [illegible].

While troops are [illegible] [illegible] in this State, or elsewhere, I am with [illegible] vote any necessary amount of money for [illegible]. But I cannot yield my judgment [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] State [illegible] to volunteer [illegible] for [illegible] a Regular [illegible] [illegible] portion of his time and attention to [illegible] political affairs of Oregon.

The General also says that "our States have given bounties, and that San Francisco has raised twelve [illegible] and [illegible] ordered that California [illegible] might furnish two regiments."

I concede that Oregon [illegible] six regiments if necessary, [illegible] any service to the Government in the [illegible] going on. But I do not see that because it has been necessary for other States to furnish regiments and incur debts for the prosecution of the war against the rebels, that it is our duty [illegible] with expenses, for no purpose and without any necessity.

The General suggests that in "the [illegible] peace," we may have foreign war, growing out of the complications of the Mexican question. If this be true, we may have a war with some foreign power. If we are to have such a war [illegible] some other question, is it not wise to husband our resources, save our credit and be prepared for such war when it comes, instead of fighting the wind before the war commences? My regard for the interest of the people of Oregon has led me to say this much and I hope you will favor me with its publication.

Yours, &c.,
B. F. HARDING.

FROM JOHN DAY RIVER.—The Mountaineer says: Mr. Mayhew, just from Canyon City, informs us that the miners in and around Canyon City are now at work, and with brighter prospect of a good season for mining than ever before. Plenty of water and with the large quantities of snow on the mountains it will probably continue until late in the fall. Rich prospects have been found on the [illegible] of the creeks, and claimants have already taken up and commenced working many of them in an old channel found on the hill west of town. One man panned out $2 50 in about two hours.

Mr. Cass, in the old Grant claim, a few days ago took out a nugget of $16. When the ground is not frozen they take out from 15 to 20 ounces per day, with eight to ten hands. The Moody claim yields enough, men from $7 00 to $9 00 per day. The McKay claim took out on last Saturday, eighteen ounces, their average is about 150 ounces per week, with 12 men.

The Bermuda Chronicle says that the bold and brave Captain Maffitt, of the Confederate Navy, whom the British authorities were so prompt in setting at liberty, has vamosed from the Bermudas after victimizing merchants, hotel keepers and others to the amount of several hundred pounds.

No wonder New York is unhealthy. A single house in the Fourth Ward is considered to hold one hundred and twenty-six families, and over fifteen hundred people; twenty seven thousand people live in cellars; any ten of the tenement houses contain often more inhabitants than the city of Hartford. Crime and disease follow such overcrowding.

THAT FAT DUCK.—Brother Bayalsin seems still to have his dreams of the bright future disturbed by that duck, sitting on the pearly edge of prosperity, to which we likened Portland last summer. He sees, through the spectacle of a late telegram from Newell, regarding the mint, that fat duck straying gravel in our deserted streets, "in evidence of the folly of counting chickens before they are hatched!" Not much, Bro. B. That Portland is to be the great entrepot of commerce for all the vast territory drained by the affluents of the Columbia is now pretty well conceded. Without patronage State or Federal—without the stimulus of imported capital, for our moneyed men have made themselves capitalists here—without external aid of any kind or nature whatever—from her own intrinsic merits as a center of business—Portland has grown and will grow. No man resides on any, even the farthest, of the waters of the Columbia, but from simple necessity ministers to the advantage, and contributes to the growth, prosperity, wealth and commercial importance of the city of Portland. Chicago, the Garden City of the lakes, St. Louis, by the side of the Father of Waters, have no higher or better adaptation as the marts of a mighty commerce than has this city. Here buyers and sellers do and will congregate. Here manufacturers will flourish, and in after years the interchange and traffic which shall take place here will exceed by far our fondest dreams, for here the wagons and the ships meet.

FROM THE INDUSTRY.—Mr. Charles Shively has furnished us the following names in addition to those already published, which comprise all that are known of the persons drowned by the wreck of the bark Industry: First Mate Coppin, who has a brother in San Francisco; Second Mate Peter Green, and sailors Robert Powers and Alex. Green, residences unknown; steward, known as Billy, said to have a sister in San Francisco. Mr. Francis, light-house keeper at Shoal Water Bay, informs the Astoria Gazette that he has quite an extended list of merchandise which has come to shore at that point from the wreck. He has taken note of and given protection to the same, as the law requires him to do, as well as he could. The light-house laws of Congress do not permit him to wreck goods ashore but requires him to "protect" them for the owners. Mr. Woodward, of Shoal Water Bay, also gives some information about goods from the Industry. He thinks some $15,000 or $20,000 worth of goods came ashore in and near Shoal Water Bay, and reports having met two or three owners, or agents of the owners, on their way to look after them.

THE ASTORIA PACKET.—The steamer John H. Couch, which has lately twice changed hands and become the property of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, is now as fine a model of a steamboat as can be found afloat on our rivers. She has the addition of a spacious saloon on the hurricane deck, with ample accommodations for passengers, and on the main deck, in the rear quarter is a fine saloon for ladies leading to the cabin above, by a well arranged flight of stairs. There are also eight state-rooms, six above and two below, with double and single berths, besides the usual rooms for officers. These improvements were commenced under the ownership of Captain Ainsworth, and now that they are completed show decidedly to the advantage of the steamer. She will take her place in the line on Monday, and those of our citizens who wish to leave the city in the summer months for a cruise about the beach, at the sea side, will find their comforts amply provided for.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the case of Howard & Co. vs. Hass & Wise, judgment for the sum of $1,946 was rendered, also a judgment for $775 was rendered in favor of Ladd & Tilton vs. Wm. Watts, yesterday. Annie Maria Wortz obtained a divorce from her husband, Zephaniah Wortz, and was granted the custody of her children, besides a judgment for $1,100. E. Cummins was appointed a trustee for her, to receive and disburse the money. Arguments still continue in the Gillihan case, which is a very important cause, Messrs. Grover & Page appear for plaintiffs, Messrs. Chapman, Mitchell, Dolph, Johnson, Wait, Kelly, Stout, Larrabee, Strong, Wolf, Tremble, and others for defendants.

A PRECIOUS CARGO.—The steamer Senator from Oregon City last evening brought to our wharves the fairest cargo that has landed on any ordinary occasion—ever. It was principally composed of the youth and beauty and fashion of this and our sister city, and intermediate towns. There was a large number of passengers, in which the feebler sex predominated. We were intently enjoying the scene on an adjoining corner of the thronged street, and coaxed the vision of a noble thought at what was passing before us, when a chap yelled out to his crony, from the balcony of a hotel near by: "I say, Bill, don't the sun fetch the wimmin out though!" Thought we, it is but justice that it should.

THE COLUMBIA.—There being such immense quantities of snow in the mountains through which the Columbia river and its tributaries flow, it would not be surprising if there should be more than the ordinary freshet the coming season of high water. The Columbia is said to be gradually receding, however, at the present time, having been swollen by the rise of the DesChutes and John Day rivers, and they are also falling, which is a good indication that the large volume will be worked off in small lots.

THE STEAMER RIVAL.—We learn that orders are expected from head quarters at Salem within a few days that will place the steamer Rival on the list of "laid up" craft. The present gentlemanly purser, Mr. Charles P. Church, in such an event transpiring, will be transferred to the steamer Reliance, above Canemah.

UNION MEETING OF THE CHURCHES.—On Sunday evening there will be a meeting of the various Church denominations of the city, at the Presbyterian Church, at which time the present condition of the Christian Commission will be presented by Rev. Mr. Atkinson.

FREIGHT UP THE COLUMBIA.—By passengers who arrived from the Upper Columbia last evening we learn that the warehouse at Celilo is now clear of freight, and future shipments will go through direct to the points of their destination on the river.

DELAYED.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt did not reach her destination—this city—last evening until nearly nine o'clock, in consequence of a detention to the steamer above the Cascades, by getting aground at the wood-yard.

PERSONAL.—The good natured phiz of H. Parker, Esq., glanced on us again last evening. He is down as a delegate from Walla Walla, to the Union Convention of Washington Territory, which meets at Claquato on Tuesday next.

SOCIAL GATHERING.—There will be a social gathering of the friends of Rev. G. H. Atkinson at his residence this evening. The next departure is chosen as the steamer upon which Mr. A. and his family will sail for the East.

WANTED.—A situation in this city, as clerk, porter or laborer, by a young married man who is not afraid to work and make himself useful. Enquire at this office.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Walla Walla Statesman says that Heman, son of Mr. T. F. Berry, was killed at his father's place, near the old Whitman Mission, on Sunday morning, 19th inst., while currying a horse. He had carelessly tied three horses together and slipped one loop over his own arm. The horses became frightened and ran, dragging him after them for about half a mile, killing him almost instantly. He was only about fourteen years of age.

THE UTILITY OF SEWING MACHINES is established beyond question, and at the present prices we see no reason why they should not be found as they ought to be, in every household.

Several varieties are manufactured, adapted to various purposes, but for family use, we believe the preference is emphatically accorded to the WHEELER & WILSON.

E. G. Randall, Agent for Portland.

Christian Commission.—There will be a Union Meeting of the different Churches on Sabbath evening, April 2d, at the Presbyterian Church. The present condition of the Christian Commission will be presented by Rev. Mr. Atkinson. Communications just received from the seat of war will be read. A collection will be taken to aid the Commission. By order of the Executive Committee,
O. S. FRAMBES, Sec'y.

Letter from Canyon City.

CANYON CITY, March 2[illegible], 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In my last I mentioned the raid made by a band of Indians upon the [illegible] at C[illegible], and the stealing of a number of horses by them, after enjoying the hospitality of the white man's house. The sequel I have now to write, and a terrible sequel it is to the savage marauders. A company of citizens volunteered to go in pursuit of the Indians, and started out a few days after the depredations were committed. They followed the trail of the Indians over the snow, and came up with them between the John Day and the Middle Fork. A general pow wow was succeeded by a general [illegible], in which fourteen Indians, including two squaws, were slain. They [illegible] the rest [illegible] the squaws, having slain all the men with great slaughter. They returned, bringing with them twenty three horses. Some say they butchered "Lo! the poor Indian" in a most ruthless and unchristian manner.

Others say they did the work for which so much money has been spent in vain during the last three years, and that they deserve the highest praise. I participate not in the discussion. [illegible]

THE ROAD OPEN.

Spring has opened, and with it the roads. Yesterday a pack train arrived from the Dalles. To-day two others, laden with general merchandise, but chiefly flour. To-morrow another will be in. So the business of the season has begun.

THE MINERS COMING.

Every day now arrivals of miners are recorded. They come on foot and on horseback. They come by land and by snow, and no doubt they would come by water if there were such a possibility. As a general thing, they are persons who have been here before and gone away to spend the winter in the Willamette or Sacramento valley.

QUARTZ, QUARTZ.

The extent and richness of the Middle Fork quartz is no longer questioned. I have this day seen specimens of the quartz from Elk Creek, 20 miles west of Vincent Ledge, and am quite sure it is very rich. The fine particles of gold are visible with the glass all through the rock. A pan of dirt taken from the ending of the ledge, produced sixteen cents. It is very fine gold. The quartz is rotten—rose quartz—and is no doubt destined to prove a permanent source of wealth to Grant county. The Vincent ledge is inferior to none in Owyhee, unless all the stories and all the testing are bogus.

PLACER MINES.

The placer mining interests still increase. Every day we hear of some "good thing" that has just been struck. Some of these things we hear are true and some are false, but the placer mines of this county are by no means exhausted. Canyon City is the centre of one of the best mining districts in the State, but how long it will continue to be the centre, I venture no prediction.

RAFFAELLE.

DIRECT STEAMER.—The Victoria Chronicle says it is rumored that a popular member of the British Columbian Legislative Council started on the last steamer for San Francisco, charged with the mission by the Government to subsidize a steamer to run direct to New Westminster.

MARRIED:

At the residence of H. H. [illegible], Esq., in Lafayette, Yamhill county, Oregon, on the [illegible] inst., by S. C. Adams, Mr. Hank W. Allen to Miss Clementine Robinson, all of Yamhill county, Oregon.

DIED:

On Sunday, March 26th, 1865, on the Tualatin river, Washington county, of inflammation of the brain, Mrs. Mary A. Jackson, wife of Mr. D. H. Jackson, from [illegible], aged 17 years.

A Universal Medicine.—By what we eat, by the air we breathe, or by the water we drink, we can be made sick; because these effects end by producing impurity of blood. The organ health we must purify the blood by the organs of the stomach and bowels; these organs must be continued in the regular performance of that duty which nature has assigned them, and should there be any impediment, to what does experience point? To BRANDRETH'S PILLS, which cannot injure, and which will surely restore the bowels to the regular performance of their duties.

The dyspeptic, the bilious, will find them a treasure of health, and the same may be said to all who are sick in any way. Take BRANDRETH'S PILLS and be cured.

Soothing and Bracing.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. m12

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.
NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP
HAS CURED THOUSANDS,
And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences,

as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption."—[Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAT COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supercede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance."

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP!

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

The Husband's Song

Sunny and red, hot this day—
There's a house standing for somebody must be up and away—
Somebody's anxious for somebody.
There's bath she's been to the gate
There's hath she had had for somebody
'Midst the night, so dark and late,
Somebody's waiting for somebody.

There'll be a suffering fire—
There'll be a welcome for somebody;
One, other nearest arms,
Will look at the table for somebody;
Though the stars fled from the west,
There's a star yet for somebody
Lighting the home he loves best,
Watching the feet of somebody.

There'll be a ... over the chair,
There'll be slippers for somebody;
There'll be a wife's tender care,
Love's fond endearment for somebody.
There'll be the little one's charms—
Soon to be waked for somebody;
And as it smiles in its mother's arms,
Oh! but how blest will be somebody.

Our "Liddy Lizer."

She was christened Lydia Eliza, I believe, but it couldn't be expected that human beings could take the trouble of pronouncing those two hard names a hundred times a day; and the natural consequence was that she was always called Liddy Lizer, and always called herself so; and the fact ought to be a warning to all poor people not to take airs when they name their children. As for Liddy Lizer herself she never took any airs—I'll say that for her; but then you see she had no reason to. I took her out of the poor-house. When Mr. Trab left this wicked world, and I thought of taking a few select boarders, I went to the poor-house and adopted Liddy Lizer. I chose her because she looked the healthiest and smartest. If I had have known how smart she was I'd never have had any thing to do with her, you may depend on that; but I never knew any good to come of those charity children—never. Pen could not tell all I did for that girl. She was bound to me until she was eighteen, and I felt it my duty. She always wore two aprons that covered her from her chin to her toes, and nice, thick cowhide boots, and all winter I gave her two nights a week at evening school, and never allowed her to contract habits of idleness—no, that is not on my conscience. I have had that girl up at five in the morning scrubbing the steps, when they froze beneath her brush before she was twelve years old.

The only fault I had to find with her was that she was too pretty for her position. Charity children have no right to be handsome in that way. I don't mind healthy red cheeks and chubby shoulders, but Liddy Lizer grew up tall and fair, with great blue eyes and golden curls (I cut them off as close as I could to her head though), and was better looking than my Araminta who was just her age—or would have been if I had dressed them alike. But you see I kept my Araminta always like a doll, and put her hair in papers every night, and never let her soil her hands; and I had her taught to play the piano, and forbade her the kitchen—for I meant to bring her up a lady.

As for Liddy Lizer, you heard her name all over the house a hundred times a day. I wanted her, cook wanted her, Araminta wanted her, and every boarder in turn needed Liddy Lizer. When she found time to grow I don't know, but grow she did. I know that by her two aprons. She was a head taller than Araminta by the time she was sixteen; and, to own the truth, she looked like a young lady when she wore her pink print to church on Sunday.

That Christmas I had a new boarder—a very rich gentleman—not very young, but very good looking and stylish. He wanted a quiet home, and furnished some apartments on the first-floor with his own handsome things, and paid well and promptly, which the boarders didn't all do. I wondered he was a bachelor.

I looked at my Araminta, dressed in scarlet and black, with her hair braided at the back and fastened with gold combs. The girl had a bewitching way, like her mother's when she was young; but I lay awake dreaming, though my eyes were wide open, all night of being mother-in-law to Mr. Ashton. Yes; the truth was, I had made up my mind that my Araminta should be his wife. The dear girl promised to do her best, and dress her prettiest; and, certainly, when I was almost driven wild with duns from dry-goods stores every day of my life, she ought to have had a sufficient wardrobe. And that is the way Liddy Lizer was pressed into service, and put on her pink calico, and sat up in the back-parlor stitching all day; for she was handy with her needle, and Araminta detested sewing.

Matters began finely: for, as Araminta told me, while they were sewing Mr. Ashton tapped at the door, and, when (of course) she asked him in, sat talking to her for two hours.

The next day, and the next, he came also; and read to her poetry, and sentimental poetry, at that, and I said to Araminta: "I never saw any one come on quite so fast, my dear. Your pa was three months getting to that." And she said, "Oh, go 'way ma!"

Sunday I felt curious. Araminta dressed in her best, and ran all over the house, talking and asking the time, so that any one might be sure she was quite ready; but Mr. Ashton did not offer to escort her—and she went alone. I fancied he was not a church-going man; but ten minutes after he put on his hat and went in quite an opposite direction, and never came back till half past twelve.

Of course Araminta was in a pet that afternoon, which was to be expected. But, as I told the girl, who knew what odd sect Mr. Ashton might belong to? He had traveled, and traveling appears to unsettle people's minds on religious subjects.

Poor Araminta! She said that she had half a mind to give up Mr. Ashton, and marry young Tompkins, who really did adore her.

The next week, however, Mr. Ashton seemed to be as devoted as ever. There was more sewing, and Araminta insisted on having Liddy Lizer of afternoons, and he read more poetry. He drew, it seems, and asked leave to sketch her as she sewed.

When he was done he would not let her see it because it did not suit him; but I peeped into his port-folio the next day, and saw that he had really been dissatisfied, for he had rubbed Araminta's portrait almost out, and left only Liddy Lizer sitting on a bench at her feet.

The boldness of that Liddy Lizer I vow I never half knew what it was until about flower-planting time. I went unexpectedly into the garden, and saw the girl, with seeds and roots in her hands, talking to Mr. Ashton—some rubbish about living flowers and feeling that they were her friends.

"Ma," said Araminta, "it is very plain Mr. Ashton is in love, but he don't say anything. I can't tell you why."

"You don't lead him on," I said.

"Tompkins don't need any leading on, ma," said Araminta.

It was provoking! Mr. Ashton had been there six months, and Araminta's milliner's bills were frightful. Liddy Lizer was past seventeen now, absolutely refused to wear aprons at all, and would put her hair back with combs and let it grow. She was handy, too, and made herself look altogether too fixy for a hired girl. Just then too, she started up to go to Sunday evening meetings, and what with the minister's wife, and the knowledge that she was quite near the end of her time with me and very useful, I let her have more of her own way. Besides, I had not so much time to think of her. My mind was full of Araminta's prospects.

At last one night—a Sunday in the first of May—Araminta said, "I am going to find out what Mr. Ashton does with himself Sundays."

Well, the child came home at half past nine, pale as a ghost.

"Mother, I followed Mr. Ashton, and he went to Methodist meeting."

"Is that all?" I asked.

"No, ma," said Minty; "wait a minute. He sat in the middle aisle, and I went into the gallery, and pretty soon I saw our Liddy Lizer come in, and march up the aisle and seat herself beside him, and they spoke and looked on the same book, and, ma, he saw her home."

"You mean she followed on after him, I suppose."

"No, ma, she took his arm."

I could not sleep all night for thinking of it. At daybreak I went down stairs. There was Liddy Lizer frying fritters for the earliest boarders. She looked up and said, "Good morning."

"Can you have the face to speak to me?" I said. "You are found out, miss; your character is known at last. I know why you go to church so much."

She blushed, but said nothing.

"My house is a respectable one," I said, "and I'll have no ill-behaved creature here. Your time is up in a week; find a place by then, and take yourself off then, sooner if you can."

She did not fire up, but said, "Yes, ma'am." Not another word, only "Yes, ma'am." And it made me so angry that I struck her. And I turned and saw Mr. Ashton looking at us from the hall.

A week went by, and on Saturday Liddy Lizer came to me and said, quite coolly, "You wouldn't mind me leaving to-night I presume, Mrs. Trab."

"The sooner the better," said I.

An hour after she came to say, "Good-bye."

"Good-bye, Liddy Lizer," I said, "only don't come to me for a character, for I couldn't give you one."

"I shan't come, Mrs. Trab," she said, and went away as a lady might with a little polite bow. Cook followed and came back to tell me she had gone to the minister's.

"Araminta," I said after tea, "it's plain that Liddy Lizer has deceived Mrs. Seraphim. It's our duty to go around and let her know what the girl's real character is. Our duty as Christians, Minty." So we went.

The minister's house was lighted up, and peeping through the window we saw that the parlor was full.

"A donation party, or something," I said. "Methodists are always having such things. We'll make ourselves sociable and find a chance to tell Mrs. Seraphim as if by accident. Strangers are always welcome at such times."

So we went in. The servant—it wasn't Liddy Lizer—asked us to lay off our hats and take off our things. And then we went down into the parlor.

"Why, ma," said Minty, "it's a wedding."

As I saw enough: Mrs. Seraphim stood in the middle of the room with a couple before her.

"Mr. Ashton, ma!" whispered Araminta. And, oh goodness gracious! just then the bride stepped around so I could see her, and I wonder I didn't drop to the floor, for it was Liddy Lizer. And Mrs. Seraphim's sister was her bridesmaid.

Araminta and I just ran up and got our things and slipped out again.

"That deceitful man!" said Minty.

"That bold Liddy Lizer," I gasped, and I wonder I didn't turn into a pillar of stone.

It's a good while since then. Araminta is thirty and not married yet, for young Tompkins married some one else out of pique. And I often wonder whether people know Mrs. Ashton was nothing but the Trabs' Liddy Lizer.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

In One Minute.

New York, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the Lillie "Lock." We are aware that you well understand this Lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be misled by such a presentation. We have just sent for one of them at the factory, and we, in our ... the ... of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on.

By One Blow of the Hammer

Applied to the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the spindle from the knob ...

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this Lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble Rigger

OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its most celebrated and very modest opening ... the same can call at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it, we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc.,—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

TILTON & M'FARLAND'S
SAFE,

The Only Protection

Against Fire and Burglars.

For the last Fifteen Years

This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our Safes by means of Burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS AT tended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

MOTTO—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making, like them, the interlocked stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.
